DANGER SIGNALS.

No engineer would be mad enough to run by the flag which signaled danger. What the danger was he might not understand, but he would take no chances. It is different with the average man or woman. They attempt constantly to run by the danger signals of Nature and that attempt costs thousands of lives every year. When the appetite becomes irregular or entirely gives out, when sleep is troubled and broken, when there is a constant feeling of dullness and languor, Nature is hoisting the danger signal. The stomach and its allied organs are failing in their work and the body is losing the nutrition on which its strength depends.

Such a condition calls for the prompt use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, purifies and enriches the blood and builds up the body with sound, solid flesh.

"Your kindness to me I can never forget," writes Mrs. J. R. Clark, of Enterprise, Shelby Co., Mo. "I cannot express half my feelings of gratefulness to you. I had despaired of ever getting well. I had been in bed for health for twelve years. Had aches all through me, numb hands, cold feet, and everything I ate distressed me. I could not sleep. I was nervous, depressed and despondent. In fact I can't express half my feelings to you. When I first wrote to you I thought I could never be cured. I have taken six bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and my health is now good. You have my honest recommendation to all sufferers. I think there is no medicine in the world as good as Dr. Pierce's."

If constipated use Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They cure constipation, biliousness and sick headache. They do not produce the "pill habit."

COMPTROLLER ASSASSINATED.

As stated in the Gazette, fired by supposed wrongs, W. G. Hill, an ex-attache of the Austin, Texas, comptroller's office, yesterday morning, a few minutes past 10 o'clock, entered the private office of State Comptroller R. M. Love and fired him by means of two well-directed bullets from a large caliber revolver. As Hill turned to flee he was intercepted by Chief Clerk Stevens, of the department, and in the scuffle which followed Hill's revolver was accidentally exploded. The bullet entered Hill's abdomen, causing a wound from which he died at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, three hours after the death of the man whose life he sought. As to what caused the shooting none can explain, other than that it was the act of a madman. Hill had been an employee of the comptroller's office for 10 years preceding Mr. Love's term of office. He was discharged by Mr. Love when the latter took charge, and it is presumed that this fact preyed on his mind until he went insane. Yesterday morning he went to the Capitol entered Mr. Love's private office, spoke to him cheerfully, shook hands, and handing him a letter to read, sat down at the invitation of the comptroller. No sooner had Mr. Love begun to read the letter than Hill sprang to his feet and fired two shots into the body of Mr. Love, one striking effect just above and the other immediately below the heart. Mr. Love screamed, dropped the letter and sprang half forward toward his assassin, then gasped and fell forward. Hill, seeing that his purpose had been accomplished, turned to make for the door. He was intercepted by Chief Clerk Stevens, who was wrestling with him when Hill's pistol was accidentally discharged, the bullet entering Hill's abdomen with the fatal effect stated above. Love was given all medical attention possible, but died within an hour after the shooting.

The letter that Hill gave to Love reads as follows:

Austin, Texas, —, 1903.
"Col. R. M. Love, State Comptroller:
"Dear Sir—Public office is a public trust. Public officers are created for the service of the people and not for the aggrandizement of a few individuals. The practice of bartering department clerkships for private gain is a disgrace to the public service, and in this nefarious traffic you are a record-breaker. You have robbed the State of its best and most competent administration has prompted others to rob the State. The man who, claiming to be a Christian, deprives others of employment without cause is a base hypocrite and a tyrant. The greatest mind that ever gave its wisdom to the world, the mind of all others most capable of "unimpeding the mutiny between right and wrong," said "you take my life when you do take from me the means by which I live." If that be true, you are a murderer of the deepest crime. Although I cannot help myself, before laying life's burden down I shall strike a blow, feeble though it be, for the good of my desecrated fellowmen.

For the right against the wrong.
For the weak against the strong.
Yours, truly, W. G. HILL.
Mr. Hill was a quiet, gentlemanly person, and was never known to be addicted to any bad habits. At the time of the shooting he was holding a good position in Austin, so that it was not surprising that he was holding a good position in Austin. It is the opinion of all that it was the act of an insane man. Immediately after the shooting and while Hill was still lying in the corridor, a bottle of laudanum was taken from his pocket, and, reaching for it, he said: "Let me take that and die easy." This has led many to believe that he contemplated suicide following his shooting of the comptroller. Both men have families surviving them.

MIRACULOUS ESCAPE OF CHILDREN.
Lizzie Yungold, who is four years old, fell five stories yesterday in New York and escaped with a slight bruise over the right eye, and within half an hour was on the street playing tag with other children. How the child escaped being killed is a mystery. Shortly after 3 o'clock she went to the roof of the five story tenement in which live her parents. She had her doll with her, and decided to take baby for a walk, and went to the roof of the house. There the child sat down on the coping and was pointing out to "Baby" the objects in the yard of a house below when she released her hold on the doll. Lizzie grabbed for her doll, lost her balance and fell. The doll landed on a shed below, but Lizzie turned somersault after somersault in her descent, struck clothes lines on the third and second floors and landed on the head of Mrs. Rose Mittler, who occupies the ground floor of house on Delancey street. An ambulance was summoned from Gouverneur Hospital, but neither the child nor woman needed medical attention.

WOMEN GAMBLERS WIN $12,000.—The largest gambling place in Houston, Texas, was put out of business temporarily by two women on Saturday. They appeared at the gambling house at 10 o'clock. The place was crowded, and they made a stir. They began operations at the crap tables, playing with success. They then staked gold pieces, of which they seemed to have an unlimited quantity, on roulette, quitting the game about $400 to the good. They ended up at faro, playing the limit. After an hour's play they had won all the money in light, breaking the bank and causing the proprietor to close down. They won in excess of $12,000. The women left the place and were driven to the Grand Central station, where they boarded a train westbound.

"I am pleased to give my experience with Wine of Cardui as I am very grateful for its help. After my first baby was born I could not seem to regain my strength, although the doctor gave me a tonic which he considered very superior, but instead of getting better I grew weaker every day. My husband came home one evening with some Wine of Cardui and insisted that I take it for a week and see what it would do for me. As he seemed to have so much faith in it I did take the medicine and was very grateful to find my strength slowly returning. In two weeks I was out of bed and in a month I was able to take up my usual duties. I am very enthusiastic in its praise."

here, as are their ambitions, triumphs and defeats. Healthy women do not suffer miscarriage nor does a woman who is healthy suffer tortures at childbirth. It is the woman who is ill—who has female weakness—who fears the ordeal of becoming a mother. Wine of Cardui builds up the womanly in a woman. It stops all unnatural drains and strains—irregularities which are responsible for barrenness and miscarriage. It makes a woman strong and healthy and able to pass through pregnancy and childbirth with little suffering. After the ordeal is passed the Wine prepares a woman for a speedy recovery to health and activity.

MOTHERHOOD is the noblest duty and highest privilege women can achieve or aspire to. Without this privilege women do not get all there is in life—too often they grow through the world discontented, wrapped up in their own selfish cares and troubles. How different is the happy mother, watching her children grow into manhood and womanhood. A mother lives as many lives as she has children—their joys and sorrows are Wine of Cardui, in re-informing the organs of generation, has made mothers of women who had given up hope of ever becoming mothers. Wine of Cardui will cure almost any case of barrenness except cases of organic trouble. How can you refuse to take such a remedy that promises such relief from suffering? Wine of Cardui simply makes you a strong woman and strong, healthy women do not suffer. They look forward to motherhood with joy.

seven-year-old McClellan Reikard, in York, Pa., yesterday evening by pumping compressed air into him. The joker, had induced the little fellow to hold the nozzle in his mouth and was operating the pump, when a policeman came to the victim's rescue. The latter was already overcome, and a physician was required to revive him. The boy's stomach was distended beyond its normal size, and it is thought he has suffered some internal injury. The joker escaped while the policeman was giving the victim his attention.
